

Leonardo da Vinci was an Italian scientist, mathematician, engineer, inventor, anatomist, painter, sculptor, architect, botanist, musician, and writer. Born as the illegitimate son of a notary and peasant woman, Leonardo was educated in Florence. He later worked in Rome, Bologna, and Venice spending his final years in France. Leonardo has often been described as the archetype of the “Renaissance Man” a man whose seemingly infinite curiosity was equaled only by his powers of invention. He is widely considered to be one of the greatest painters of all time and perhaps the most diversely talented person ever to have lived. Two of his works, the Mona Lisa and The Last Supper, occupy unique positions as the most famous, most reproduced and most parodied paintings of all time.
